

PERSONAL JOTTINGS.

Messrs. Clifford H. Porter and Charles S. Klein, clerks at the L. Candee & Co.'s offices, left last night for Centerville, N. Y., for a hunting and pleasure expedition.

Miss Mary D. Smith of New York, niece of Mrs. Algren Morse, is visiting her aunt at 206 Crown street. Miss Smith returned on Saturday from a European trip, an annual experience with her for the past four or five summers. After spending a few days in New Haven Miss Smith will go to the college in Massachusetts at which she is finishing her education.

President David Corey of the New Haven Street Railway company, and family have returned from their Short Beach cottage, where they have passed nearly four months.

Mrs. Rosabel Prushour Lines of Elm street, the accomplished pianist, has returned from a two months' stay at Jefferson, in the White mountains, where she has been with her husband for the benefit of his health.

Rev. J. A. Timm, pastor of the Trinity German Lutheran church in this city, preached the sermon and performed the ordination of Rev. O. Leidenstuck, the newly elected pastor of the German Lutheran church in Collinsville, yesterday.

Miss Gertrude Sanford returned on Saturday from a visit to her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hale at Newton, in the suburbs of Boston. She received a pressing invitation to remain through the fall, but her musical engagements would not admit of its acceptance. Miss Sanford went to Newton, Conn., yesterday to act as maid of honor at the wedding of her friend, Miss Ruth Nichols and Hobart Curtis, which took place last evening.

The Hon. L. A. Cooke and J. R. Buck, receivers of the Continental Life, started yesterday for Chicago on business connected with the large western interests of that corporation. Governor Coffin is in the Adirondacks, and in his absence Lieutenant Governor Cooke has been acting governor. Now that the lieutenant governor goes the executive mantle falls upon Senator J. H. Ferris.

William H. Murphy, formerly captain of the Yale baseball nine, and shortstop of the New York league nine for the past two years, arrived in town yesterday as the guest of his brother, Michael C. Murphy, the Yale track and football star. Mr. Murphy will enter the Bellevue Medical school, New York, this month and may retire from baseball permanently. He has under consideration, however, offers from two national league teams, and also an offer from a minor league city to act as captain and manager.

Mrs. James B. Smith (nee Armstrong) will entertain as her guest for the month of October Miss Madison of New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Weatherwax, Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Battel and daughter left town yesterday for Atlanta to spend a week at the exposition.

Miss Anna Pierpont of Chestnut avenue, Waterbury, came to New Haven this week to begin an extended course of study at the Anderson Normal School of Gymnastics.

News has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. Maria Clark Short of Digby, Nova Scotia, which occurred September 18. She was taken very suddenly sick and died in about an hour. Mrs. Short had for the past twenty-five years kept a boarding house, or hotel, in Digby, which has been one of the best in that place or vicinity. Many New Haven and Hartford people have stopped there, and they will be shocked to hear of her sudden death. She was sixty-eight years old and one of the active supporters of the Baptist church there to which she was a liberal contributor.

THE HORSE GUARDS.

A Deficit of $100, But It Was Most Creditable.

The Second Company Governor's Horse Guard met Monday night, admitted six members, voted to hold field day in East Haven, October 15, and then received the report of the committee having charge of the bicycle races held in Elm City Driving Park, Labor day.

The committee reported a deficit of about $100. The expenses of the affair are greater than the receipts chiefly because of the expensive prizes given.

Opposed to Divorce.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 1.—After a debate continuing all through last night's session and through nearly all of today's the constitutional convention has decided that there shall never be a divorce granted in South Carolina for any cause. The vote was 86 to 49. Senator Tillman did his best to have the divorce of other states recognized in this state, but for once his appeals were heard with a deaf ear and he was voted down. The bill was quoted from very freely during the debate. The parliamentary clincher was put on after the matter was adopted. There was a fight to-day to have the convention take a recess until January 14. This was killed. Then an effort was made to have a recess of ten days. This, too, failed, the vote being 86 to 53.

Debt Has Decreased.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The debt statement issued this afternoon shows a net decrease in the public debt less cash in the treasury during September of $1,834,686. Total cash in the treasury $27,889,408.

Evidence Was Insufficient.

Brooklyn, Oct. 1.—The evidence submitted to the grand jury in the Henry case was all in by noon to-day. Some hours later the grand jury declared the evidence insufficient to justify an indictment against William Henry, who was accused of having killed his father.

All Hands Are Lost.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The barge Elma, which broke loose from her tow during the recent storm on Lake Superior, has been picked up and taken to Grand Island. She will prove a total loss. The crew of six men and a woman and child have not been found and are undoubtedly lost.

COURT RECORD.

United States Court—Judge Townsend.
In the United States court before Judge W. K. Townsend yesterday arguments were begun in the case of Thomas A. Andrews of Gainesville, Texas, against Landers, Frary & Clark of New Britain.

The suit is a case in equity and is an action brought to recover $20,000 for alleged breach of contract and infringement on patents on a faucet.

Superior Court—Civil Side—Judge Hall.
Judge Hall in the superior court, civil side, yesterday afternoon, rendered his decision in the appeal from probate of Mary Cleary. Mrs. Cleary is the daughter of the late Patrick Tiernan, who left $2,000, two-thirds of which went to a daughter and one-third to a daughter and son. Mrs. Cleary was not remembered in the will and claimed that an undue influence was used with her father and that he was incapacitated for making disposition of his property. Judge Hall dismissed the appeal and reaffirmed the decision of the probate court in admitting the will to probate.

NON-SUITED J. H. WHITING.
Attorney John H. Whiting's appeal from probate came to a sudden termination yesterday morning before Judge F. B. Hall.

Mr. Whiting appealed from the decree of the court of probate in admitting to probate the will of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ann Beers. In the will Mrs. Beers gave Mr. Whiting use of one-half of her estate of $20,000 upon one condition, and this condition he never fulfilled. She provided that Mr. Whiting should return to the estate $6,000, which she stated he had appropriated to his own use. In the event of his refusal to pay back this sum he was cut off from participation in the estate and his share was given to his children by his first wife, over whom ex-Judge S. A. York is guardian. Whiting refused to pay this sum back to the estate, claiming that Mrs. Beers had given it to him outright in consideration of payment on a life insurance policy.

Executor H. L. Hotchkiss insisted that the provisions of the will must be carried out, and the probate court after a hearing sustained the executor and admitted the will to probate, thus cutting off Mr. Whiting from participation in the estate.

Mr. Whiting appealed to the superior court and the case was put on trial before Judge F. B. Hall. The first witness started on the stand was Mr. Whiting. He started to testify as to what arrangements he had with Mrs. Beers in reference to the bonds.

Ex-Judge Stoddard, who appeared for the executor, and ex-Judge York, who appeared as guardian, objected to the evidence, claiming that what Mr. Whiting's arrangements or dealings with Mrs. Beers were irrelevant, the only point involved being whether he had returned to the estate the $6,000 as specified in the will.

Newton & Wells, who appeared for Mr. Whiting, argued that Mr. Whiting's testimony should be admitted. The court ruled Mr. Whiting's testimony out as inadmissible, and Mr. Whiting's case was gone.

Judge Hall then reaffirmed the order of the probate court and non-suited Mr. Whiting. An appeal may be taken by Mr. Whiting to the supreme court.

Probate Court—Judge Cleveland.
INQUIRY INTO THE SMITH CASE.
Ex-Judge L. P. Deming, as trustee upon the estate of Ella A. Smith, will probably apply to the probate court to-day to have Henry F. Smith, who carried on the tailoring business on Crown street as agent, summoned to appear in court for examination. There is some dispute between Ella A. Smith and Henry F. Smith, who until recently were supposed to be man and wife, over the sum of $3,000 which was used in the business. The trustee by an examination of Mr. Smith hopes to be able to determine to whom the sum in dispute did actually belong.

WILL PAY A 14 PER CENT. DIVIDEND.
Maler Zunder, trustee of the insolvent estate of George F. Fletcher, has by excellent management secured money enough out of the property to pay a dividend of about 14 per cent. Mr. Zunder is always successful in the business affairs to which he gives his attention.

City Court—Criminal Side—Judge Cable.
Morris Dasle, theft, nolle; Abraham Sarfunkel, breach of the peace, continued to October 2; Jeremiah Henley, violation of liquor law, continued to October 4; Frank J. Newton, same, continued to October 3; Ellen Hazlett, same, continued to October 3; Harry Daniel, erecting sign above street line, $5 fine, $54 costs; George Rocheforte, John Farrington, Lewis Beyer, James Moran, burglary, continued to October 2; Harry Bonick, breach of the peace against John Dugan, $2 fine, $7.06 costs; George R. Boyle, same against Mabel Stanton, continued to October 2; John Cason, violation of Sunday liquor law, continued to October 3; Ellen Hazlett, keeping disorderly house, $25 fine, $7.83 costs; same, drunk, judgment suspended; Mary Ann Redding, judgment suspended.

Court Notes.
THE BOYS STOLE CIGARS.
George Rocheforte, one of the quartet of boys arrested Monday night, charged with breaking into the confectionery and cigar store of Edward S. Brady, at the corner of Washington and Cedar streets, and taking a quantity of cigars, was tried in the city court yesterday morning. James Bishop defended Rocheforte. It was shown that Rocheforte was told of the plan to break into the cigar store, but did not accompany the other boys. He participated in the fruits of the burglary, however. Judge Dow continued the case until to-day for a decision. The other boys who were arrested, James Moran, thirteen; John Farrington, fifteen, and Louis Beyer, twenty years, were held until to-day, when they will be tried on reform school complaints.

ASSAULTED WHILE EATING GRAPES.
George R. Boyle of 444 Chapel street was charged in the city court yesterday morning with assault on Mabel Stanton of 498 Chapel street. It is alleged that while Miss Stanton was standing on an inverted barrel last Sunday eating grapes from a vine in her yard that Boyle assaulted her with a broom. The case was continued until to-day. Attorney Fitzgerald represents the accused.

HIS SIGN OUT TOO FAR.
Harry Daniels was fined $5 and costs in the city court yesterday morning on the charge of maintaining a sign on the sidewalk at 697 Chapel street beyond the street line.

HARTFORD SUPREME COURT.
Hartford, Oct. 1.—The supreme court, October term, was opened at the capitol this morning at 10 o'clock by Sheriff Smith. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. H. Twichell. The judges present were Chief Justice Andrews and Judges Hamersley, Fenn, Torrance and Baldwin. The case of Erasmus Gay, et al., executor, vs. Susan Ward, administrator, et al., was argued to-day. Perkins & Perkins for plaintiff, and Robinson & Robinson, T. H. Dewey and J. L. Barbour for defendant.

HARVARD'S BLOODY MONDAY.
Lively Freshman-Sophomore Rush—Class of '99 May be Suspended from Athletics.
Boston, Oct. 1.—"Bloody Monday" night was celebrated by an exciting rush at Harvard last night. Despite the efforts that have been made during the past two weeks to do away with this ancient custom, there was a rush in front of Matthews' last night.

There was a time when sporting men came out from Boston to see a Harvard rush as they now come over to see a football game. Then it was full of exciting incidents. The rushers were organized, regularly lined up, and with locked arms went at each other. But gradually it became a free fight, and has finally ended in an indiscriminate grab for hats and caps. There were broken heads and bloody noses in the old days.

In comparison with the rushes of the past two years that of last night was a fairly good fight.

The sophs mustered in force just after the reception in Sanders' theater, and were soon marching around the yard, cheering and howling at the top of their lungs. The usual quiet of the college yard was made hideous.

Soon the freshmen, who had just met President Eliot at Memorial hall, began to assemble in groups of four and five. Some wore caps and others had bare heads. The class of '99 was inclined to hold back. They had to be urged on, and then '97 turned out in full force to do the tantalizing and coaxing of the freshmen.

At first '98 began marching around the yard and cheering. The freshmen were still backward. Then the sophomores line up three deep in front of Weld hall and waited. There was only a small group of freshmen in the yard when the juniors withdrew behind the wire fences.

The upper classmen lined the steps of Matthews' and laughed at the freshmen and then cheered them on. The freshmen, led by one little fellow who sprang to the front and rallied his hesitating classmates, charged on the sophomores. They went at the sophs with a rush, and for three minutes there was a free struggle.

The object of every man seemed to be to collect as many hats as possible. Then they straggled apart and both sides rested preparatory for another encounter.

Again '99 did the charging, and a scrimmage even more exciting than the first ensued.

After the second rush good order was soon restored and gradually the yard was cleared.

There was one unnatural thing about the rush in the yard. No attempt was made by the faculty to put a stop to the fight, as has been done for a number of years.

The freshmen will probably be suspended by the faculty from athletic privileges for this year as a punishment for the rush. The faculty are opposed to it.

PEARY SAYS HE IS THROUGH.
He Says He Never Expects to See the North Pole Unless It Is Brought Here.

Portland, Me., Oct. 1.—Lieut. and Mrs. Peary reached this city at an early hour this morning by way of the Canadian Pacific road. They crossed over to their home near Cape Elizabeth this morning. Upon arriving home the explorer found that his aged mother, impatient to see him, had left for this city to meet her son. He at once turned back and met her returning.

The meeting between mother and son was most affecting. Mrs. Peary was hardly willing that her son should leave her side for a minute. He was seen, however, by an Evening Sun reporter, to whom he said that it was too early for him to review his experience during the long months he spent searching for the North Pole.

In reply to a question as to whether he expected to make another and more successful expedition, he said: "No. I shall never see the North Pole unless someone brings it here." Then looking out of the window, he continued: "It seems good to be back here where I can see such strange things as houses, trees and people."

"I am done with it," he said. "In my judgment such work requires a far younger man than I. The leader of such a party should be able not only to do as much as anyone else, but more than any other man. He should be under thirty, rather than over forty. I am too old to snowshoe twenty-five or thirty miles a day for weeks, and to carry a heavy load during most of the time. For that work one should be a trained man, a thorough athlete, and that I am not."

Lieut. Peary said that he is rapidly recovering his health. "I believe the pole will be reached," continued Mr. Peary, "and I think the work will be accomplished in a comparatively short time. I am, however, no believer in the existence of the open polar sea."

Mrs. Peary said that she hoped and believed that her husband had got enough of the Arctic region. She spoke brightly and bravely of her own experience while in the land of ice, but said that she thought that her husband had done quite enough in that line.

MR. STODDARD IMPROVING.
He Has Sustained the Operation Excellently Well.

Boston, Oct. 1.—The condition of John L. Stoddard, the popular lecturer, who underwent an operation on his throat in Elliot hospital, this city, is reported to be much improved to-day. Mr. Stoddard is still confined to his bed, but is able to take light nourishment. It is expected he will be up and about by to-morrow, and the probable duration of his confinement will be but a few days.

The New Haven Cremation society will hold its annual meeting at the hall, Courier building, No. 400 State street, this evening at 8 o'clock.

HE WEIGHED 423 POUNDS.
Death of the Connecticut Fat Men's Association's President.

Meriden, Oct. 1.—Stephen Kelley, president of the Fat Men's association of this state, died here this morning, aged fifty-three years. Two apoplectic shocks was the cause. He was next to the fattest man in this state, weighing 423 pounds. The deceased accumulated considerable wealth in the grain business.

THE PRIZE BABY OF KANSAS CITY.
Cured of Disfiguring ECZEMA By the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Our little baby of two months was badly afflicted with Eczema. It began when she was three weeks old, and in spite of all our skill and that of two good physicians, she continued to grow worse. Her head, arms, neck, and limbs, and, in fact, nearly every joint in her body, were raw and bleeding when we concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The child being so small and delicate, we began with CUTICURA (ointment), and CUTICURA SOAP, according to directions, and after the first application we could see a change. When we had used the remedies one week when four and a half months old, and took the premium of a silver cup, as the prettiest baby, over sixteen others. We recommend CUTICURA REMEDIES to all our friends, and cannot praise them too highly.
